Mobile Learning Solutions for Healthcare

Make Learning More Effective and Convenient!

What if you could share learning with your payors, providers, healthcare workers and consumers anywhere, anytime, every day?

- Extend training and health coaching beyond the hospital or classroom
- Send new training and updates out faster—in just days or weeks
- Connect with learners more effectively with technologies they're already using today

How Can Resolute Mobile Learning Solutions Enhance Learning?

- Web conferences are one-hour learning sessions that audiences can attend live or playback from anywhere. Resolute works with presenters and internal content experts to create and deliver timely, effective conferences.
- Podcasts are short “bites” of content that can be consumed via laptop, smartphone or mobile devices. Fast and easy to produce, podcasts deliver when learning is in demand.
- Web-delivered classes are asynchronous enabling learners to access virtual classrooms, study materials, and tests at any time, anywhere. Instructors facilitate collaboration through email, instant messaging, and web conferences making web-delivered classes ideal for in-depth content.

How Can Resolute Help You Deliver Mobile Learning?

Resolute's Mobile Learning Solutions for Healthcare are flexible. With four components and a range of support options we can help you develop a mobile learning program that fits your organization's unique educational needs:

- Consulting
- Hosting on Resolute Platform
- Mobile Learning Solutions
- Ongoing Turnkey Deployment

- Pilot Support—This option is ideal for organizations just starting their mobile learning program or for those that are looking to demonstrate a pilot program for stakeholders. Resolute can help you deliver your new mobile learning pilot program in just weeks.
- Enhanced Deployment—Our enhanced program development option supports those who are deploying small to moderate-scale mobile learning programs. This support option is also designed to enable the first deployment phases of larger mobile learning programs.
- Full Program Support—Our full support option is ideal for those organizations who are deploying full-scale or multi-year learning programs. Want to launch your program this year? Resolute can accelerate your entry into mobile learning and get your program under way now.
